

Dear Messrs WANG and Qichao:

Thanks very much for your list of simplified Hanzi.
I really appreciate it.

I checked your list and found some confusing lines.

1. The total number of simplified Hanzi: 2235? 2234?

Mr. Wang already said that:

> This file contains three table:

- > Table1 , 350 Hanzi
- > Table 2, 132 Hanzi
- > Table 3, 1754 (Not 1753)

- > Total hanzi are 2236.
- > But please note that there are duplicate simplified hanzi
- > in table1 and table3:

签(7B7E) shows up as a simp. char more than once. need to merge
签(7B7E);籤(7C64)
签(7B7E);簽(7C3D)

须(987B) shows up as a simp. char more than once. need to merge
须(987B);鬚(9B1A)
须(987B);須(9808)

My question is:

It seems that the total number of simplified Hanzi is 2234 (= 2236 - 2 dup. simplified Hanzi: 签(7B7E) and 须(987B))? Am I right?

2. Each of the following 9 Hanzi is simplified to more than 1 simp. char.
- It is very confusing. Is it CORRECT?

3. Each of the two Hanzi shows up both as a simp char & as a trad char.
- It seems that this is an ERROR.

约(7EA6) The same char shows up both as a simp. char and as a trad. char.
STRANGE.... Is it CORRECT?

约(7EA6);约(7EA6)

鸞(9E6B) The same char shows up both as a simp. char and as a trad. char.

STRANGE.... Is it CORRECT?
鷺(9E6B);鷺(9E6B)

I will really appreciate if you would check and probably correct errors and send the list once again (hopefully without errors this time ^ - ^).

Thanks in advance.
