I. Skills set and experience

Candidates are expected to have/be:

Requirement	Please indicate how you meet the requirements
Direct experience and knowledge of the IANA naming function	As CEO of CIRA, the ccTLD for .ca, Canada, I have participated in many name server changes for CIRA's DNS since becoming CEO in 2008. In addition, I have considerable direct experience with the IANA naming function as a result of being chair of the ccNSO from 2013 to 2016, as co-chair of the CWG IANA Stewardship Transition Charter Drafting Team and as a CWG 'participant' throughout the whole IANA transition process.
Analytical skills, ability to interpret quantitative and qualitative evidence, and capacity to draw conclusions purely based on evidence.	Beginning initially with my Master of Business Administration and then through my more than 20 years of experience in the global domain and Canadian consumer loyalty, finance, and retail industries, including 15 years at the senior executive level I have progressively strengthened my ability to acquire, distil and interpret information so that I could become an accomplished, strategic, business leader.  With CIRA I have led two long term strategic planning exercises that have both led to significant strategy changes. I also led the ccNSO's Financial Working Group (FinWG) which involved a considerable amount of analytical effort to assess ICANN's value to the ccNSO community and to express it in a way that was understandable to that community.
Experience in managing and/or participating in committees (e.g. meeting coordination, reporting, and escalation) in	I have considerable experience working on committees within the larger ICANN ecosystem. While chair of the ccNSO and

order to contribute meaningfully to CSC processes	chair of the FinWG I regularly worked closely with senior management at ICANN, ICANN Board members as well as the leadership of other SO/ACs, which work I hope to continue in my current role as vice chair of the ccNSO. I also served as co-chair of the CWG Drafting Team on the IANA Stewardship Transition and followed the work of the CWG very closely, both as a CWG 'participant' as well as chair of the ccNSO during the bulk of the IANA transition discussions. As such, I am very familiar with the role the CSC needs to play in the post IANA transition environment, both from the overall governance perspective as well as from the perspective of a ccTLD manager. My role as a member of the High Level Panel on Global Internet Cooperation and Governance Mechanisms has helped me to understand the role of the ICANN SO/AC community in the larger Internet governance ecosystem.
Demonstrated ability in relationship management to support diplomatic discussion, consensus driven decision making, and productive negotiation	I believe that my leadership of the FinWG best demonstrates this ability. The question of financial contributions to ICANN brought with it significant political challenges and bringing the process to a successful conclusion required considerable patience, lengthy discussions as well as a large measure of diplomacy.
The candidates have excellent communication skills in order to represent ccTLD interests and to keep the ccNSO and broader ccTLD community informed on progress	In the various leadership roles I play within the ICANN world I have always sought to ensure that the ccTLD community's views and interests, and the tenacity with which we hold them, are well understood by others in the community. In these leadership roles, and as CEO of a successful ccTLD, I am regularly called upon to speak in order to advocate for these interests, a role with which I am quite comfortable.
Able to work and communicate in written and spoken English	I am a native English speaker with both undergraduate and graduate degrees from English language universities.
Commits to actively participate in the activities of the CSC on an on-going basis	As mentioned above, because of my involvement in the IANA transition process, I well understand the role the CSC needs to play in the post IANA transition environment. It needs to quickly establish

	itself in its role as overseer of the performance of PTI in its discharge of the IANA functions. The registry community, and the ICANN community as a whole, needs to be assured of the continued strong performance of the IANA function for the direct customers of the naming services. The first responsibility of the CSC will be to establish its own internal operational procedures and to engage other members in its ecosystem and forge the necessary relationships that will characterize its successful operation. I commit to undertaking these responsibilities.
Employed or have active backing by a ccTLD Manager	It is part of the ethos of my employer, CIRA, a 'not-for-profit' company, to contribute and support the Internet governance community in general and the ccTLD community specifically. My current and past leadership within the ccNSO demonstrates this. I am also fortunate to be able to call on the support of CIRA staff where necessary to assist me in carrying out these functions. I am prepared to devote the time necessary to fulfill the obligations of a CSC director.

Please explain your interest in becoming involved as a member of the CSC.

My interest in being involved in the CSC is both practical and personal.

I believe in the benefits of the transition and want to back that belief up with personal action.

Further, from a practical perspective, since IANA is a primary supplier to my organization, it is incumbent upon me to ensure that the IANA transition delivers the best possible outcome for the TLD community and that the initial CSC creates the environment and processes that can deliver that outcome.
