from Jim Prendergast to All Participants:im on a laptop from Jim Prendergast to All Participants:hand up from Jim Prendergast to All Participants:That would work from Jim Prendergast to All Participants:for those not familiar - there was a graduated scale of refunds available to applicants depending on which stage they withdrew. But by the time ICANN made post submission changes, the refunds available were for 50% or less of the $185k fee. Thats not fair so there ws talk of ensure there would be a 100% refund if ICANN Changes the rules from Jim Prendergast to All Participants:a mini digital archery industry was spawned from Christa Taylor to All Participants:wt1

from Christa Taylor to All Participants:grabbing headset from Christa Taylor to All Participants:go ahead from Rubens Kuhl to All Participants:ICANN already sent the agreement in the governmental version for gov. applicants, there was no need to ask specifically for it.

from Cheryl Langdon-Orr to All Participants:

VI  was quite an adventure  with no outcome from kristina rosette to All Participants:For those of us whe weren't on this work track, how did the work track propose to address the problem faced by at least one RO, namely, that no registrars were willing to sign its RRA? (It's my understanding that that situation has been resolved, but it raises the potential for anticompetitive behavior by registrars that don't like a particular RO's business model.) Thanks.

from Rubens Kuhl to All Participants:Kristina, ICANN's response to that during RA amendment negotiations was that VI allowed that RO to have its own Rr in such a corner case.

from kristina rosette to All Participants:I think adding a question would be a good idea. It's an important gap, I think.

from Greg Shatan to All Participants:Hand from Rubens Kuhl to All Participants:In such a question, it could be either no or very few registrars.

from Jim Prendergast to All Participants:Some in the community have called for a must carry provision on Registrars but I don't see how that could happen.

from Cheryl Langdon-Orr to All Participants:Kristina I attended most calls as well, and I do not recall that specific issue being discussed as such from Cheryl Langdon-Orr to All Participants:Good point to catch as a question ... Yes Kristina from Rubens Kuhl to All Participants:RrSG membership is not mandatory to becoming a registrar.

from Rubens Kuhl to All ParticipantsIt's also not mandatory to vote on amendments as well.

from Cheryl Langdon-Orr to All Participants:I don't thinl so either Jeff, so another good matter to catch from Steve Chan to All Participants:No, all clear
