March 28, 2018 12:55:51 PM from Cyntia King to everyone: This is in the event a Respondent doesn't respond, right?

March 28, 2018 12:56:17 PM from Mary Wong to everyone: @Phil, that was intended to allow a defaulting respondent a chance to still respond (the idea being there may have been a good reason he/she did not respond within the original 14 day period).

March 28, 2018 12:58:45 PM from Mary Wong to everyone: Further information: from the STI report in Dec 2009: "If Registrant fails to file an answer within twenty (20) days and the examiner rules in favor of Complainant, Registrant shall have the right to seek de novo review by filing an answer at any time during the life of the registration. Upon such an answer being received, the Domain Name shall resolve to the original IP address as soon as practical. The filing of an answer after Default is not an appeal. "

March 28, 2018 12:59:27 PM from Cyntia King to everyone: Agreed

March 28, 2018 12:59:36 PM from Mary Wong to everyone: Those periods were, as I recall, subsequently modified in the final stages of AGB development, but the basic idea of allowing the Respondent a second opportunity remained.

March 28, 2018 1:11:37 PM from Cyntia King to everyone: Next page

March 28, 2018 1:11:48 PM from Ariel Liang to everyone: Thanks Cynthia!

March 28, 2018 1:15:55 PM from Ariel Liang to everyone: In fact the supplemental rules have noted not using the same examiner for the appeal panel
