To whom it may concern:

Top Level Design, LLC is seeking to amend its .ink and .wiki RRAs. The changes relate specifically to .ink and .wiki's premium pricing and will allow the TLDs to adopt tiered pricing systems for their premium names. An identical premium tiered system is currently used in Top Level Design's .design TLD.

A summary of the proposed changes are listed below:

- RRA section 4.8 was added to address non-standard renewal pricing; registrars should disclose in their registration agreements that domains in the .ink and .wiki TLDs may renew at different rates according to pricing tier.
- RRA section 7.1 has two additional sentences. They clarify where premium pricing and information relating to pricing notices will be available.

Redlines of the .ink and .wiki RRAs have been included. We look forward to working with the RrSG. When approved, revised versions of the RRAs will be available for signature on the Centralnic registrar console.

Best wishes,
