RE: Changes to Charleston Road Registry Inc.'s Registry-Registrar Agreement ("RRA") Data Processing Addendum

ICANN,

As required by Section 2.9(a) of the Registry Agreements between ICANN and Charleston Road Registry Inc. ("Google Registry"), we are hereby providing ICANN notice of our intention to amend the RRA Data Processing Addendum ("DPA") for all Google Registry operated TLDs (.app, .dev, .page, etc). Google Registry is proposing these changes to bring our contracts inline with various data processing laws.

As shown in the attached redline, the changes to the RRA Data Processing Addendum:

- update relevant definitions,
- ensure cross-border sharing of any personal information is done so under the Standard Contractual Clauses (or other valid transfer mechanism) as required by law, and
- incorporate the recently released Standard Contractual Clauses from the European Commission.

Note that there are no changes being made to the base RRA. The changes suggested will be rolled out to registrars via the Standard Contractual Clauses Amendment, also attached.

We anticipate that this request will be forwarded to the Registrar Stakeholder Group for its review and approval. If you or the RrSG have any questions or require any additional information, please feel free to reach out.

Sincerely,

Crystal Ondo
